

Learning in the Leaves

Identification- Passer montanus – Tree Sparrow

Distinguishing Features

- Approximately 13 to 14cms
- They differ from our other sparrow species in that they have chestnut coloured plumage on the tops of their heads.

Interesting Facts

- Numbers of tree sparrows have declined considerably in recent years. Where they can be found they are usually seen in flocks.
- [information collated from the UK Safari Website: www.uksafari.com]